

Yahoo E-Group

The e-group is a group e-mail address that is used to communicate to all club members who are subscribed. There are a variety of uses for this forum such as:

- To invite others to join you on a last minute ski, hike, bike ride, etc. that was not announced at the previous meeting or posted on the website.
- To get a feel for what kind of interest there might be for a trip you are considering coordinating.
- To alert members of an important event, issue (non political), or change in plans or procedures.
- To post a trip report of a trip you recently coordinated or attended.
- To post a message to generate interest in certain activities or locations.

Subscription to the e-group is available to Minnesota Rovers club members only. Only current club members will be able to post messages and receive messages via email. However, anyone can view the posts at <http://groups.yahoo.com/group/mnrovers>.

Guidelines:

Please use the e-group responsibly, absolutely NO ADVERTISING for personal gain.

Please always sign your name at the end of your post, anonymous posts are not welcome.

When replying to a message you receive via the e-group, first ask yourself, "Do 300+ people want to receive my reply or just the person who posted this message?" Using the REPLY button will send your reply to the person who posted the message only. Please use the REPLY TO ALL button responsibly!

All posted messages reflect the opinion of the sender—not the views of the club. To keep this a positive environment, we request that all participants express their opinions in a positive, constructive manner.
